ROCK-6 Vision Statement

Charlie Company, 37th Engineer Battalion (C) (A) will be a disciplined, highly trained, and cohesive company of physically fit and aggressive warriors who know and do their job and work together to accomplish any mission. Charlie Company will be composed of “can do – make it happen” Soldiers. The army values (Loyalty, Duty, Respect, Selfless Service, Honor, Integrity, and Personal Courage will be the foundation of our service). The ROCK stands ready to support its higher unit and will aggressively accomplish all missions and tasking without complaining. We will be at all costs reliable and loyal and will remain committed to service and doing the right thing at all times.

Each Soldier in Charlie ROCK is essential to its success and will be highly trained in the use of weapon systems, at accomplishing basic soldiering tasks, at tactics, and airborne operations. Each Soldier will know and do his job with AIRBORNE pride and make his area of control the absolute best it can be!

Leaders will lead by example and maintain a positive attitude towards each other as well as subordinates. They will take care of their Soldiers and families. Leaders will teach, coach, and mentor Soldiers to improve daily. Leaders will take care of Soldiers’ issues and allow them to take care of their families. Leaders will be hard but will treat subordinates and peers with dignity and respect. Officers and NCOs will embody the “Be, Know, Do” concept.
